Newark Star Eagle

11 DRY AIDES RAID $100,000 PASSAIC STILL

Plant in Full Blast Masked by Row of Garages.

10/27/31

Just one block from Passaic police headquarters, in McLean street, that city, prohibition authorities today began the destruction of a $100,000 distillery, which they found in operation late yesterday behind the false front of a row of private garages.

Eleven enforcement agents—nine from Newark and two from Philadelphia—pushed their way into the place because of the reek from 14,000 gallons of fermenting molasses mash and 2,500 gallons of finished alcohol.

These four workmen were arrested and locked up over night in First precinct station, Newark, for arraignment today

Joe Mello, 255 Hammond avenue, Passaic.

Eddie Max, Hazleton, Pa.

John Peterson, 287 Ferry street, Easton, Pa.

Abe Hall, 254 Monroe street, Passaic.

The equipment the men tended was shiny and new and had been in operation no more than three weeks, the agents said. In addition to mash and alcohol the materials, paraphernalia and accessories confiscated were 10,000 gallons of molasses, a [illegible]0-gallon still, a row of vats, [illegible] three trucks fitted with tanks [illegible]h the legend "gasoline" marked [illegible]minently on their bulky sides.

[illegible]he garage front at 25 McLean [illegible]t was aligned almost flush with [illegible] of dwellings in the block. Be[illegible]tched a long, low building [illegible]ted by a cupola that made [illegible] lookout.

[illegible]ation had required exca[illegible]ty-five feet below street [illegible]mmodate the copper [illegible]ns.

TRE

ALCOHOL COMPANY WINS PERMIT PLEA

Trenton Times 10/28/31

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—Colonel Samuel O. Wynne, Federal supervisor of alcohol permits for this district, was overruled by Judge Dickinson in United States District Court yesterday and ordered to restore the permit of the Burlington Industrial Alcohol Company, of Burlington, N. J., which was revoked last July. Under the permit the company has the right to use 2,100,000 gallons of alcohol yearly for denaturing purposes.

In a long series of hearings preceding the revocation, during which thousands of pages of testimony were taken, prohibition authorities sought to prove that the company permitted the diversion of approximately 300,000 gallons of alcohol to bootleggers in 1929 and 1930. Judge Dickinson held that the testimony was conflicting and that no person hearing it could have "any satisfied conviction of what the truth is."

THREE TO SHARE $500 BEER FINE

Trenton Times 10/28/31

McGovern, Blackwell and Fallon Face Judge Bourquin For Transportation

Three Trenton men were sentenced to a single fine of $500 by Judge Bourquin in Federal Court here today on charges of transporting 13 half-barrels of beer. The men, Edward McGovern, 415 Genesee Street; William Blackwell, 319 South Broad Street, and James Fallon, 1228 South Broad Street, retracted not guilty pleas and threw themselves upon the mercy of the court.

The judge made no stipulation as to how much each of the three defendants must share in the joint $500 fine.

Joseph Winklestein, convicted of possessing liquor and maintaining a nuisance, was sentenced to four months in jail and $500 fine. William Levin, who also stood jury trial, was found guilty and sentenced to 60 days in jail and $200 fine for transportation.

Michael Jaccodine, Fred Brady and Walter Scheuble, all of Jersey City, were sentenced to 30 days each and a joint $400 fine for possession and nuisance. Daniel Hanrahan, of Newark, was sentenced to 30 days and $125 fine, and Frank White, of Hoboken, and Adolph G. Kadlec, of Long Branch, were each sentenced to 30 days and $150 fine for dry law violations. Fines of $500 each were imposed on Joseph Schubert and Frank Smith, both of West New York, and Joseph Russo, of Union.

[illegible] caught fire today.
[illegible] arsenal is equipped for manu[illegible]re of all modern war material.

had a full day ashore today for the first time in weeks.

Willy Rody, youthful owner of the wrecked plane, and Christian Johanssen, the chief pilot, were guests of Dr. Paul Schwarz, German consul in New York. Tomorrow they will attend church service of thangsgiving, arranged for them at the German Lutheran Zion Church.

Fernando da Costa Viega, the third member of the party, was kept to his hotel room, nursing an injury to one leg. He fell against the motor of the wrecked airplane as she tossed in the Atlantic for 158 hours.

The two German fliers appeared at the radio show at Madison Square Garden last night and broadcast their experiences. Rody spoke in German Johanssen in English.

A dinner by the German-American conference and one by city and consular officials and aviation men are being arranged.

The fliers left Lisbon, Portugal, September 13, sighted the steamship Pennland the next day, when 200 miles off the Canadian coast and then disappeared. Six days later the freighter Belmoira picked them up at sea and transferred them to the liner Stavangerfjord, which arrived in New York yesterday.

Who's Who in the Day's News

The proposed sales tax will put the heavy drag on the little man, says Senator Capper, opposing Senator Reed and taking his corner in an interesting preliminary to the Congressional main event next December.

In his twelve farm magazines and newspapers Senator Capper prints pic-

[illegible] egg whites and [illegible] Add the cream of [illegible] eggs stand in [illegible] sugar slowly and [illegible] Add the vanilla. Add [illegible] add to [illegible] into un[illegible] Bake [illegible] and

[illegible]ELICACIES

[illegible]u use cereals in your ic[illegible]
Do you serve cereals wi[illegible]

34c Yard

yd.

ELITE