Truck That Escaped Hoboken Raid Seized

One of the eight trucks driven from a Willow street garage in Hoboken a week ago when Hoboken police prevented federal agents from seizing it was captured yesterday in Ferry street, Hoboken.

Agent Albert Steckman, who led the original raiding party, was in charge yesterday.

John Nevins of 812 Garden street, Hoboken, the driver, will be arraigned today before United States Commissioner A. L. Friedmann. Agents seized 135 half-barrels of beer. Steckman said he recognized the truck as one in the garage.

The seizure came the day after an anonymous letter had been received from Hoboken by Commander John D. Pennington, prohibition administrator, which was labeled "the last warning" and told the commander Steckman would be put on the spot.

Agents also seized a wildcat brewery in a building at 153 Rensselaer street, New Brunswick. No one was in the place when they entered. They seized two 1,000-gallon vats of beer, fifty ten-gallon kegs and thirty half-barrels of beer.

WOMEN WH

Judge today decided that women to jail for liquor violations until "all the men are in jail."

This comment came when he had placed Anna Vitulis, of Jersey City, on probation for five years, and had ordered her to pay a fine of $150. He had originally sentenced her to serve 60 days in jail.

"I am waiting until all the men are in jail before I start sending the women," he said.

Then he turned to the woman's counsel and asked how long it would take her to pay the fine. The attorney replied that she could pay it at once.

"I ought to have made it a little more," said the court.

Alex Zembuske, also of Jersey City, who figured in the same case, did not fare so well. He was sentenced to 30 days and to pay $100 for liquor law violations.

Joseph Cella, of 610 Ohio Avenue, Trenton, pleaded guilty to liquor law violations and was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail and to pay a fine of $150. John Vizzial, of 1217 Princeton Avenue, pleaded guilty to dry law violations.

GIVEN 100 DAYS IN POSTAL EMBEZZLING

Victor Frumolt, of Union City, who pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzling $536 from postal funds, was sentenced today in Federal Court by Judge Bourquin to serve 100 days in jail and to pay the amount of money he had embezzled. Frumolt, in his own defense, said he had loaned the money to a friend who needed the sum. He refused to reveal the identity of the man.

official advices from Washington rest reports that Judge Bourquin sit in Newark beginning with the opening of the term in that city Wednesday.

The November term of Federal Court will open Wednesday when the grand jury will be sworn in at the Newark Post-office building by Federal Judge Fake. Assistant United States District Attorney Thomas Arrowsmith will present the cases.

Federal Judge Clark will call the law and equity calendars Wednesday and sit in these cases. Judge Fake will be in his chambers in the Letcourt building writing opinions and hearing other matters. Federal Judge Avis also will hear criminal matters in Trenton.

ACQUITTAL ORDERED ON FEDERAL CHARGE

Judge John Boyd Avis, in the United States District Court this afternoon, directed a verdict of acquittal for John J. Kraus, secretary and treasurer of the Kraus Company of Newark, who was charged with using the mails to defraud.

The trial was started yesterday and was resumed again this morning. The directed verdict was given shortly after court had convened for the afternoon session.

Kraus was accused of sending false financial statements through the mail. He was defended by J. Howard Connor, while Assistant United States Attorney Griggs appeared for the government.

U.S. Court Business in Last Ten Weeks Exceeds Average in Year; Judges Bourquin and Avis Lauded

Judge George M. Bourquin's Montana brand of justice enabled United States Attorney Phillip Forman to dispose of as much business in less than ten weeks than is usually transacted for a whole year in Federal Court here.

In a report made public yesterday by Mr. Forman it was revealed that the efficient and speedy action of the Montana jurist resulted in disposition of an amazing number of cases.

Praise was extended to Judge Bourquin and Judge John Boyd Avis, who is the regular presiding head of the Trenton court, for their cooperation in making the September term of court the most notable this district has recorded in history.

The court calendar has unofficially gone down as the "Battle of the Ten Weeks."

The majority of the cases by far were those dealing with prohibition violations, and these, with the exception of a few were handled entirely by Judge Bourquin.

The two judges disposed of 746 defendants by either guilty pleas, conviction or acquittal by juries. There were 440 pleas of guilty, 111 trials by jury and 39 trials without jury. There were 114 convictions, 34 acquittals and one mistrial.

A total of $181,004.87 was imposed in fines, and defendants were sentenced to serve a total of 1,731 months in jail. The jail sentences filled up the four principal county prisons, including Mercer.

The important part that liquor played in the court transactions (which astounded Judge Bourquin by its enormity of traffic) is evidenced in the great number of cases in this division. It was here that Judge Bourquin exhibited his Western style of dispensing justice.

Of the total number of 440 pleas of guilty received by the two judges, 372 were for prohibition violations, and out of the 111 trials by jury 69 were in the liquor calendar. The 39 trials without jury were entirely concerned with violations of the Eighteenth Amendment.

So firm was Judge Bourquin in handling liquor trials that only 22 acquittals were returned as compared with 85 convictions.

Liquor cases alone brought in a harvest of $135,525 in fines and resulted in sentences of 1,086 months and 25 days in jail.

Other criminal cases resulted in 68 pleas of guilty and 42 trials by jury, in which there were 29 convictions and 12 acquittals. In this division a total of $45,479.87 was collected in fines and sentences aggregated 644 months and 25 days in jail.

"The Government business," said Mr. Forman in his report, "transacted at the September term of the United States Court at Trenton before Judge Avis of this district and Judge Bourquin, especially designated here by Chief Justice Hughes, was exceptionally heavy and aggregated as much,
