NOVEL CASE BRINGS UNUSUAL PENALTY

Trenton Times 11/17/31

Federal Judge Bourquin today became his own stock market by fixing the value of corn on the cob.

He charged Clarence Shipp, of 231 Paul Street, Belvidere, one dollar a dozen for three dozen ears of corn and fined him the large sum of $3.

Shipp was accused of taking the corn from New Jersey to Pennsylvania via rowboat across the Delaware River. The specific accusation was: Transporting in interstate shipment via boat ears of corn which were capable of carrying European corn borer.

Shipp said that he was very poor, that he did not have enough money to pay for the corn, and that it was given him by a friend. He said that he examined the corn carefully and was of the opinion that it did not contain any corn borers.

He was arrested by Federal inspectors, who occupied a station along the river, not far from where Shipp tried to ship his corn across the stream.
